Directions:

- Convert diopter to radius
- Convert radius to diopter
- Vertex Distance conversion
- Transposition
- Manifest over refraction of cross cylinders conversion

To convert diopters into radius of curvature, type in the diopter power and push "Calculate R". To convert radius of curvature into diopters, type in the radius in mm and push "Calculate D".

To use the vertex distance conversion tool, type in the power, select the vertex distance that the power was examined at, select the new vertex distance, and push "Calculate P". For contact lens power, the new vertex distance is zero. Vertex distance 13.5 is only the default vertex distance and can be changed as required.

To use the manifest over refraction (MOR) tool, type in the current prescription of the client, add the MOR and click "Calculate M". Use the transpose button as required.
